

RAFIQ LATTA

SENIOR CORRESPONDENT
ENERGY INTELLIGENCE

Rafiq is a Senior Correspondent with Energy Intelligence's Middle East team. He joined Energy Intelligence in 2013, initially focusing on Iraq, but has since migrated to a wider regional role. Rafiq's working life began in television news, working for a number of broadcasters including the BBC. After a stint in Asia, he switched to energy journalism in 2002, working both for the Middle East Economic Survey (MEES) and Petroleum Argus. Rafiq holds a BA in Arabic and Islamic studies from the University of Exeter.

